

Destruction and Environmental Degradation

11 April, 2011

Nineteen Olive Trees are uprooted in the Wadi Qana by the Israeli Occupation Forces because they claim the area is a natural preserve and agriculture is outlawed.

This even though the Wadi Qana has been used for agriculture by the Palestinians for hundreds of years.

At the same time, raw sewage pours down from the illegal settlement of Nofim, polluting the natural springs of the Wadi Qana valley.
